Kerry Freek is the editor of Water Canada magazine. She writes on water in the context of policy, economy, environment, infrastructure, and technology. She is an active member of several advisory committees, including the Canadian Water Summit, Living Lakes Canada, and the Ontario Clean Water Agency’s Technology Showcase. In recent years, Kerry has participated in press tours and trade missions to Israel, the Netherlands, Sweden, Denmark, and the Philippines. As part of a team of Canadian supporters, she recently visited water and sanitation project sites in Tanzania with Ottawa-based charity WaterCan. Kerry is a member of the Society of Environmental Journalists and the Canadian Society of Magazine Editors. She is a graduate of the University of Waterloo and Centennial College.

Kelley Lee is Associate Dean, Research, Director of Global Health and Professor in the Faculty of Health Sciences, Simon Fraser University. She is also Professor of Global Health Policy at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine and an Associate Fellow of the Centre for Global Health Security, Chatham House, UK. Her research and teaching focuses on the impacts of globalisation on communicable and non-communicable diseases, and the implications for emerging forms of global governance. She has authored around 80 scholarly papers, 40 book chapters and 10 books including The World Health Organization (Routledge, 2008), Global Health and International Relations (Polity Press, 2012 with Colin McInnes) and Asia’s Role in Governing Global Health (Routledge, 2012 with Tikki Pang and Yeling Tan).

The department of political science at McMaster University, in conjunction with the Canada Research Chair in Public Policy and Globalization, and Institute for Globalization and the Human Condition, proudly presents the second Graduate Conference on the Internationalization of Public Policy: Mapping the Global Dimensions of Policy 2. Co-sponsors include the Global Health Program, the Centre for Health Economics and Policy Analysis, the Centre for Engineering and Public Policy, and the Centre for Climate Change at McMaster University.

Drawing upon McMaster’s expertise in the field of international and comparative public policy, the conference theme focuses on the global dimensions of policy and aims to bridge the gap between international relations and public policy by investigating how the “global,” including institutions, actors and ideas intersects with the “regional”, “national” and “the local” to create particular policies and outcomes. Papers using a variety of approaches and addressing a range of issues related to the internationalization of public policy are welcome, including: global health/ international trade and finance / climate change and its internationalization of public policy are welcome, including: global health/ international trade and finance / climate change and its implications for emerging forms of global governance. She has authored around 80 scholarly papers, 40 book chapters and 10 books including The World Health Organization (Routledge, 2008), Global Health and International Relations (Polity Press, 2012 with Colin McInnes) and Asia’s Role in Governing Global Health (Routledge, 2012 with Tikki Pang and Yeling Tan).

Marjorie Griffin Cohen is a professor of Political Science and Gender, Sexuality and Women’s Studies at Simon Fraser University. She is an active feminist who has written extensively in the areas of political economy and public policy with special emphasis on issues concerning, the Canadian economy, women, labour, electricity deregulation, energy and the environment, and international trade agreements. She was the principle investigator of a five year SSHRC Community-University Research Alliance Grant (CURA). This project (called the Economic Security Project) focused on the study of the impact of government policies on vulnerable populations and how to construct policy to meet the needs of these people. Her most recent books are Public Policy for Women and Remapping Gender in the New Global Order Professor Cohen was a director of NewGrade Energy (Sask) and has served on several boards and commissions in British Columbia. She was also instrumental in establishing the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives in B.C., was its first Chair, and is on its Board of Directors.

John Shields is a Professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration at Ryerson University and serves as the Managing Editor of the Journal of International Migration and Integration published by Springer in The Netherlands. He is CERIS Senior Scholar and a past Director of CERIS – The Ontario Metropolis Centre which is one of the five centres of excellence in Canada focused on policy-oriented research on immigration, settlement and integration. His most recent publishing and research has focused on public policy and administration particularly in the areas of immigration, labour markets, social policy and the nonprofit sector. He is co-author of Dismantling a Nation and Shrinking the State, and his recent article, “Building a Policy-Oriented Research Partnership for Knowledge Mobilization and Knowledge Transfer: The Case of the Canadian Metropolis Project” explores the challenges of creating and sustaining cross-sector research relationships in an era of austerity and neoliberal policy paradigms.

John Shields is a professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration at Ryerson University and serves as the Managing Editor of the Journal of International Migration and Integration published by Springer in The Netherlands. He is CERIS Senior Scholar and a past Director of CERIS – The Ontario Metropolis Centre which is one of the five centres of excellence in Canada focused on policy-oriented research on immigration, settlement and integration. His most recent publishing and research has focused on public policy and administration particularly in the areas of immigration, labour markets, social policy and the nonprofit sector. He is co-author of Dismantling a Nation and Shrinking the State, and his recent article, “Building a Policy-Oriented Research Partnership for Knowledge Mobilization and Knowledge Transfer: The Case of the Canadian Metropolis Project” explores the challenges of creating and sustaining cross-sector research relationships in an era of austerity and neoliberal policy paradigms.

John Shields is a professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration at Ryerson University and serves as the Managing Editor of the Journal of International Migration and Integration published by Springer in The Netherlands. He is CERIS Senior Scholar and a past Director of CERIS – The Ontario Metropolis Centre which is one of the five centres of excellence in Canada focused on policy-oriented research on immigration, settlement and integration. His most recent publishing and research has focused on public policy and administration particularly in the areas of immigration, labour markets, social policy and the nonprofit sector. He is co-author of Dismantling a Nation and Shrinking the State, and his recent article, “Building a Policy-Oriented Research Partnership for Knowledge Mobilization and Knowledge Transfer: The Case of the Canadian Metropolis Project” explores the challenges of creating and sustaining cross-sector research relationships in an era of austerity and neoliberal policy paradigms.

Marjorie Griffin Cohen is a professor of Political Science and Gender, Sexuality and Women’s Studies at Simon Fraser University. She is an active feminist who has written extensively in the areas of political economy and public policy with special emphasis on issues concerning, the Canadian economy, women, labour, electricity deregulation, energy and the environment, and international trade agreements. She was the principle investigator of a five year SSHRC Community-University Research Alliance Grant (CURA). This project (called the Economic Security Project) focused on the study of the impact of government policies on vulnerable populations and how to construct policy to meet the needs of these people. Her most recent books are Public Policy for Women and Remapping Gender in the New Global Order Professor Cohen was a director of NewGrade Energy (Sask) and has served on several boards and commissions in British Columbia. She was also instrumental in establishing the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives in B.C., was its first Chair, and is on its Board of Directors.

John Shields is a Professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration at Ryerson University and serves as the Managing Editor of the Journal of International Migration and Integration published by Springer in The Netherlands. He is CERIS Senior Scholar and a past Director of CERIS – The Ontario Metropolis Centre which is one of the five centres of excellence in Canada focused on policy-oriented research on immigration, settlement and integration. His most recent publishing and research has focused on public policy and administration particularly in the areas of immigration, labour markets, social policy and the nonprofit sector. He is co-author of Dismantling a Nation and Shrinking the State, and his recent article, “Building a Policy-Oriented Research Partnership for Knowledge Mobilization and Knowledge Transfer: The Case of the Canadian Metropolis Project” explores the challenges of creating and sustaining cross-sector research relationships in an era of austerity and neoliberal policy paradigms.

John Shields is a professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration at Ryerson University and serves as the Managing Editor of the Journal of International Migration and Integration published by Springer in The Netherlands. He is CERIS Senior Scholar and a past Director of CERIS – The Ontario Metropolis Centre which is one of the five centres of excellence in Canada focused on policy-oriented research on immigration, settlement and integration. His most recent publishing and research has focused on public policy and administration particularly in the areas of immigration, labour markets, social policy and the nonprofit sector. He is co-author of Dismantling a Nation and Shrinking the State, and his recent article, “Building a Policy-Oriented Research Partnership for Knowledge Mobilization and Knowledge Transfer: The Case of the Canadian Metropolis Project” explores the challenges of creating and sustaining cross-sector research relationships in an era of austerity and neoliberal policy paradigms.

John Shields is a professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration at Ryerson University and serves as the Managing Editor of the Journal of International Migration and Integration published by Springer in The Netherlands. He is CERIS Senior Scholar and a past Director of CERIS – The Ontario Metropolis Centre which is one of the five centres of excellence in Canada focused on policy-oriented research on immigration, settlement and integration. His most recent publishing and research has focused on public policy and administration particularly in the areas of immigration, labour markets, social policy and the nonprofit sector. He is co-author of Dismantling a Nation and Shrinking the State, and his recent article, “Building a Policy-Oriented Research Partnership for Knowledge Mobilization and Knowledge Transfer: The Case of the Canadian Metropolis Project” explores the challenges of creating and sustaining cross-sector research relationships in an era of austerity and neoliberal policy paradigms.

John Shields is a professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration at Ryerson University and serves as the Managing Editor of the Journal of International Migration and Integration published by Springer in The Netherlands. He is CERIS Senior Scholar and a past Director of CERIS – The Ontario Metropolis Centre which is one of the five centres of excellence in Canada focused on policy-oriented research on immigration, settlement and integration. His most recent publishing and research has focused on public policy and administration particularly in the areas of immigration, labour markets, social policy and the nonprofit sector. He is co-author of Dismantling a Nation and Shrinking the State, and his recent article, “Building a Policy-Oriented Research Partnership for Knowledge Mobilization and Knowledge Transfer: The Case of the Canadian Metropolis Project” explores the challenges of creating and sustaining cross-sector research relationships in an era of austerity and neoliberal policy paradigms.
Day 1
JAN. 28 | MUSC CIBC HALL

12.45 OPENING REMARKS AND WELCOMES
Stephan MCBRIDE, Canada Research Chair in Public Policy and Globalization
Shafig HUGUE, Chair, Department of Political Science

1.00-2.15 OPENING PLENARY: COMMUNITY ENGAGED POLICY RESEARCH: TELLING TRUTH TO POWER
Marjorie Griffin COHEN, Professor of Political Science and Gender, Sexuality and Women's Studies SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY “SUCCEDING DESPITE THE ODDS: THE ECONOMIC SECURITY PROJECT
John SHIELDS, Professor of Politics and Public Administration RYERSON UNIVERSITY "KNOWLEDGE MOBILIZATION, EVIDENCE-BASED POLICY AND THE METROPOLIS EXPERIENCE”

2.30-3.45 DISCUSSIONS:

A. THE CRISIS
- Jesse HEMBRUFF (QUEENS) “Where Damage Isn’t Already Done: Mapping the Transnational Policy Landscape of the Greek Debt Crisis”
- Berkay AYHAN (McMaster) “Global Financial Crisis and Reform in Israel”
- Meghan JOY (RYERSON) “Mapping the Shifting Political Economy of the Third Sector: From Great Society to the ‘Politics of Stealth’, the Case of Canada”

DISCUSSIONS: Peter GRAEFE

B. ENVIRONMENT AND CLIMATE CHANGE
- Stephanie TOMBARI (McMaster) “Global Ventures: Mid-sized cities responses to global climate and economic crises”
- Reham KHADER (McMaster) “Energy and water exchanges from a temperate forest in the great lake region”

DISCUSSIONS: Altaf ARAIN

4.00-5.15 SESSIONS

C. TRADE AND INVESTMENT
- Janis ROBINS (WESTERN UNIVERSITY) Sovereignty Disciplined: Effects of WTO Dispute Settlement Mechanism on State Policy in Trade Services
- Navid POURMOOKHTARI (UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA) NAFTA Chapter II and State Sovereignty: the Transformation of Globalized States
- Paul WHITELEY (CARLETON UNIVERSITY) Mapping the Legal into the Global: Examining the Transnational Investment Regime

DISCUSSIONS: Tony PORTER

D. INNOVATION
- Andrea ROWE (McMASTER) “Overcoming obstacles to women’s participation in national innovation systems: exploring OECD innovation policy”
- Pujia SHARMA (UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN) “Social Capital in Large-Scale Projects and their Impact on Innovation”

DISCUSSIONS: Ata UL-MUNIM

RECEPTION AT THE PHOENIX

Day 2
JAN. 29 | MUSC CIBC HALL

8.45 COFFEE

9.15-10.30 SESSIONS

E. WATER AND ENVIRONMENT
- Luzma Fabiola NAVA (LAVAL) A binational effort to sustain the Rio Grande/Rio Bravo
- Saviri JETOO (McMASTER) Lessons to inform governance of the Laurentian Great Lakes
- Marguerite MARLIN (McMASTER) Harnessing Legitimacy and Normative Power in Global Policymaking: Three Visions for the Future of Fisheries Regulation in the Arctic High Seas

DISCUSSIONS: Gail KRANTZBERG

F. DEVELOPMENT
- Nick BERNARDS (McMASTER) The International Politics of Development Strategy in Africa
- Susan DODSWORTH (McGILL) Wishful thinking? Donor policies and the unintended side-effects of budget support in the developing world
- Emma PASZAT (UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO) ‘Land Grabs’ in Africa: A Beneficial or a Harmful Practice? The Case of Ethiopia

DISCUSSIONS: Nibaldo GALLEGUILLOS

10.30-10.45 COFFEE

10.45-12.00 SESSIONS

2ND PLENARY: WATER CRISIS
- Kerry FREER, editor of Water Canada magazine “WATER DISTURBANCE: WHAT’S A GLOBAL EPIDEMIC DOING IN CANADA’S BACKYARD?”

LUNCH

12.00-1.00 LUNCH

1.00-2.15 SESSIONS

3RD PLENARY: GLOBAL HEALTH GOVERNANCE
- Kelley LEE, Associate Dean, Research, Director of Global Health and Professor in the Faculty of Health Sciences, SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY: Professor of Global Health Policy at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine “HEALTH FOR ALL? NAVIGATING THE CONTESTED LANDSCAPE OF GLOBAL HEALTH GOVERNANCE”

COFFEE

4.00-5.15 SESSIONS

G. EDUCATION
- Merli TAMTIK (TORONTO) Shaking the Iceberg: Mutual Learning Initiatives in the European Research Policy
- Chan ENNS (Balsillie School of International Affairs, UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO) Conflicting Agendas in Global Education Policy: The United Nations, the World Bank and Indigenous Peoples’ Rights to Education
- Scott SMITH (McMASTER) The evolution of OECD higher education policy governance: an actor-network theory analysis

DISCUSSIONS: Henry JACEK

H. HEALTH
- Afi PAROOG (UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO) “The Global Health Governance for Pandemic Response and its Shortcomings”
- Cristina-Ionela VELICU (NATIONAL SCHOOL OF POLITICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE STUDIES (Romania)) Cross-border mobility of health professionals: an exploratory study of migration flows and retention policies in the CEE region
- Liss SALDANHA, Amanda GRAFEN, Daniel KORPAL, Laurent MICHELS, Liliane MAAPARZI, Brooklyn WINCH, and Christian KRAEKER (McMASTER and MAASTRICHT UNIVERSITY) Analysis of Committee for Development Policy: Achieving Sustainable Development in an Age of Climate

DISCUSSIONS: Gillian MULVALE

I. MIGRATION
- Constance NAUD-ARCAND (McGILL UNIVERSITY) Cross-national policy divergence in a rather convergent policy domain: the case of national irregular migration policies in Scandinavia
- Corey RANFORD-ROBINSON (York University) The Global Governance of Migration: the Politics of Human Mobility & the Ethics of Cosmopolitanism
- Sheri ADEKOLA (WILFRID LAURIER) Migration as a positive agent of change: A transnational geographer’s approach

DISCUSSIONS: Peter NYERS

J. IDENTITY
- John Robert BELL (QUEENS) “Combating Facebook and the Corporatization of identity”
- Meagan KINSELLA, (McMASTER) “X: Transgender passports, Document Identity and Belonging in Australia”

DISCUSSIONS: Catherine FROST

K. SECURITY
- Shaela WLODARCZYK (Norman Paterson School of International Affairs (CARLETON) and Faculty of Common Law (UNIVERSITY OF OTTAWA) “Pirates! Extraterritorial Jurisdiction and Canadian Foreign Policy”
- Joe LANDRY (Norman Paterson School of International Affairs, CARLETON) “Understanding State Failure: A Two-Stage Empirical Analysis of the Influence of Shock Events in Fragile States”
- Christopher YORDY (CARLETON) “Foreign Direct Investment and Food Security in an Age of Turbulence: Outlooks from the Middle East”

DISCUSSIONS: Lane WYLIE